WHEAT MARKET DULL, BUT REMAINS STRONG

Advances: Oats Firm; Provisions Quiet.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31—Dullness and strength characterized trading in wheat all day. The market opened strong, with prices up 125c to 125c, and during the day further gains of about to were annoxed for all deliveries. The close was at almost the top figures. The bulge at the opening was due chiefly to an advance of $4 at Liverpool, and the later upturn was largely the result of a falling off in primary receipts in this country, particularly in the northwest.

Private estimates, which claimed a much smaller crop of corn than was indicated by the government report, were factors responsible for a sharp advance in corn prices. September gained $c. The market closed strong at almost the top, with prices up $40.5c, compared with yesterday's finals.

Oats were dull, but firm. The close was firm, with prices up $40.5c, compared with yesterday's finals.

Oats were dull, but firm. The close was firm, with prices up $40.5c. Trade in provisions was decidedly guiet. At the close, prices were a shade higher to $24.05c lower.

Market Holds Easy and Quiet; Close Near Top Figures; Corn Dealers Charge Up Lack of Trade to the Inclement

Owing to the inclement weather there was little doing on the local produce market Tuesday. A rise in the price of creamery butter went into effect, the retail dealers asking 40 cents a pound for the product. This is 5 cents more than the price which the dealers have been charging for the past several weeks. The wholesalers raised the price from 31 cents a pound to 33 cents a pound.

The increased expenses attached to producing butter at this time of the year and the higher prices of grain and food for the cattle is attributed as the reason for the increase in the price. Fresh eggs are not very plentiful and some dealers are asking as high as 40 cents a dozen for these.
